

JOB TITLE:	Senior QA Automation Engineer
LOCATION:	Remote
Summary	We are looking for a Senior QA Automation Engineer to join our client team. As a Senior QA Automation Engineer, you will play a critical role in building and maintaining an automated test suite to identify regression defects and ensure the application's health. Your expertise will help us maintain high-quality software and flag release defects.
Responsibilities	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Key focus on building out an automated test suite to identify regression defects and validate application health.• Create and implement a strategy for end-to-end (e2e) and integration tests within the software development life cycle (SDLC).• Collaborate with the release manager, developers, and product owners to flag release defects.
Requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Advanced skills in Automation Testing.• Skilled in Tosca and/or Selenium.• Advanced Manual Testing skills.